FIRST FOUR MONTHS

Risk is a reality for every project. Surfacing risks in a decision management lifecycle is critical to a successful go-live. InRule's expertise supporting hundreds of engagements allows us to quickly identify unconsidered risk areas on the customer journey. We then work closely with organizations to compile a tailored set of practices to traverse those risks in pursuit of a successful go-live.

1

DISCOVER-WEEK 1

Discover workshops, strengthen teams, build alignment and executive buy-in; Early goal definitions are used in later practices to prove goals were met and the organization has realized benefits from the project.

2

ENGAGE-WEEK 2

Engaging with the problem through a rule application gets the team moving forward and mitigates risk.

3

BUILD-MONTH 3

Early governance builds best practice – even when the first integration is not live; Manage requirements and deliver on business goals.

4

SCALE-MONTH 4

Scale what you know throughout the organization and solve tough production planning problems.

HOW IT WORKS

Examine your project readiness with our self-assessment tool. Review your results with our experts, and together, we'll plot a course that leverages your existing assets. We can help you identify what's missing and prepare your team for next steps. While each successful rule project follows a slightly different path, workshops help bring critical milestones to light.

MAKE PROGRESS ON YOUR PROJECT

Our workshops consist of tailored, practiced, and sequenced content delivered on-site with your team in the early days of the project. Within those five days, a project moves quickly through high-risk planning areas. At the end of the workshop, executable assets are available for the team who can quickly turn them into fully engaged rule authoring activities, early governance and advances in integration. At the end of the week, you'll have a significant start toward a working rule application.
